Shopping Center Keeps Cucamonga Building Boom Explosion On Move

The Cucamonga District building boom continued its long-range explosion Thursday afternoon, March 24, when work started on the Mayfair Market unit of New Cucamonga Shopping Center.

Located on the south side of Foothill Blvd. between Archibald and Hellman Aves., the 12-acre center eventually will contain at least 20 commercial units.

Other Projects

It follows completion of the Fruehauf plant in the area, dedication of Chaffey College's new $5 million Alta Loma campus, announcement of the $2 million California Village tourist attraction, and pending plans for a $15 million Bible Storyland amusement park currently under fire from area ministers.

Leon Lucas also announced briefly that a new "$4 million industry employing 400 persons" would start construction in the Cucamonga area in May. The name of the firm, believed to be an electronics firm, has not been named as yet.

The Mayfair Market will be an 18,000 sq. ft. building of tilt-up concrete construction with front exterior of aluminum and glass. Contractor is Ralph C. Sutro Co. Citrus Electric Co. of Cucamonga is a sub-contractor.

Overall Plans

Overall plans for the center include 72,400 sq. ft. of buildings and parking for 570 cars.

Carter Gray, president of Cucamonga District Chamber of Commerce, declared at the Thursday ceremonies:

"This day will mark the beginning of a new era for this pioneer town, one of commercial and industrial growth which will complement the agriculturial pursuits in the area to form a sound, balanced economy. A well-planned community shopping center is all we need now to make this the heart of business activity for the area, like it was 70 years ago."

Senorita Cucamonga

Miss Ida Ramirez, Senorita Cucamonga de California Village welcomed the gathering, presenting a bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Charles J. Hughes wife of the project owner, and a bottle of Cucamonga champagne to Mr. Sutro. Mrs. Hughes then operated the mechanism to dump the first load of concrete for the floor of the new building.

J. Earl Garrett, president of Mayfair Markets, stated that "Our decision to locate a market here is an expression of our firm's confidence in the economic stability and growth potential of Cucamonga. We hope you will accept us as a part of your community we promise to take an active part in the civic growth of the area."

Mr. Garrett's message was presented though he was unable to attend in person.

William Berk, Mayfair vice-president and in charge of public relations, recalled his early days of delivering bread between Los Angeles and San Bernardino when Cucamonga was a wind-swept place without trees. He expressed great hope for the area

Other Officials

Other officials of Mayfair attending were Phillip Merrick, general advertising manager; Eddie Evans, manager of the local division, and Robert Bernstein, market planning director.

Mr. Lucas, Cucamonga realtor and rancher, acted as master of ceremonies.

Paul Sutro, reaffirmed the optimistic note of the ceremony when he stated, "We at Ralph C. Sutro Co. have confidence in the continued and potential growth of the Cucamonga area and are pleased to take part in this initial step to develop a fine commercial center here. We are aware of several large local projects which are about to be started and will further local development."

Mr. Sutro said his company had given a great great deal of thought before coming to Cucamonga. He said the "potential is practically unlimited" for growth in the area."

One of the most interesting guests presented was Billy Broman, a farmer in Cucamonga since 1917, who originally owned and worked the soil on the shopping center site. The land originally was from a Spanish land grant.

Special Guests

Special local guests included William Amberson, Arthur Endean, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Santolucito, Mr. & Mrs. Asgar Ravin, Robert Nesbit, Leslie Foster, John Patane, Harold Zeng, George Mahan, Cal Shores, Roy Taylor, Herb Vaughan, Carl Masingale, Robert Hauser, Reed Sprinkle William Brumund, Joe Danieri, Richard Devlin, Tony Blatnick, Andy Subsaro, Norman, Hixson, Daniel Mikesell, Virgil Gladson, Betty Witman, Rosalie Kamansky, Agnes Chapman, Betty Mitchell, Myrta Crilly, Peg Heimerl, Clifford H. Papier Mache Dam Set For Foothill Blvd.

Any itinerant tidal wave cruising down Foothill Boulevard next month may meet an obstacle just as improbable -- a papier mache dam.

Citizens groups campaigning for adequate flood protection in the central San Bernardino Valley say they will erect the temporary monument to call public attention to the flood threat in the area.

"Lives and property between Ontario and Fontana are completely exposed to flood danger," said Harold Blatz, Cucamonga civic leader and chairman of the Operation Flood Protection citizens information committee. "No area of the valley has been so neglected in the flood protection field."

The citizens committee has championed the need for early appropriation of federal funds for the Upper Chino Basin project, a series of dams, channels and debris basins designed to guard the central valley.

County and federal officials now believe the $42 million project may be near the fund approval stage. It has received the support of county, state and federal agencies.

The Operation Flood Protection committee has been spear-heading a citizens drive to acquaint Congress with the need and worth of the project. The papier dam promotion will be part of the climax of the campaign this spring, a special "Operation Flood Protection Week."

From The Mailbox

To The Parents of Upland:

In reading the Editorial published in the Upland News, March 24, 1960, I find, Mel Hodell, Editor & Publisher, has approached the "sidewalk issue," with a very broad, and decisive point of view.

Last summer, Harold Wilder, City Engineer, along with Harold Barbour, and the Chaffey Schools Transportation Manager, and other citizens, including all the Upland School system, P.T.A. presidents, safety chairmen, the Principal of Upland High School, and Dr. and Mrs. Ackerson, attended sessions on "Safety in Upland."

Many issues were talked over. It was felt among those present, that something must be done.

Harold Barbour suggested that the mothers wear uniforms — a jacket and cap with a safety emblem and the use of a flag; however, this wasn't realized at that time. In conclusion, those representing the Safety Council arrived at this idea and presented it to the Council: Permit a speed limit of 35 miles per hr. above Foothill. This was agreed upon.

The sidewalk issue is still pertinent. The parents along Foothill need the assurance that their children can get to and from school, safely, as all the children in Upland need this protection. Our police force is doing their very best at Baldy View Elementary School, at San Antonio and 11th and at other crossings. However, as past Safety chairman for Baldy View and in conjunction with Sgt. Quesada, Mr. Williams, Mrs. Mitchell, all the teachers and those who helped conduct the bicycle check last Nov. 1959, I would like to extend a word of thanks. Mrs. A.W. Stremmel, P.T.A. president, did, and is doing a tremendous job.

Please, as parents, lets give our children the very best we have to offer. Let's have safety with bicycles, at ALL CROSSINGS. This can, apply to every citizen who operates a vehicle in our town, UPLAND.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Florian Fred Schmidt,
334 Elizabeth Lane.

Third In Bowling For Upland Girls

Upland High School's Girls' Athletic Assn. held its first annual invitational bowling match on Monday, March 21. Chaffey, Corona, and Pomona High Schools accepted Upland's invitation and met at the Thunderbird Lanes.

Corona rolled the highest two game total, and took three first place spots. Chaffey scored one first place, and Upland came in third, with one second place.

Corona will continue the courtesy by inviting the same schools to meet on April 18 at Corona Lanes for a rematch. Miss Mary Pollock, Upland High School physical education instructor, headed the planning committee for the event.

Senior Problems Get Expert Word

Completing a unit on social problems, Upland High School's senior problems classes heard a guest speaker, Sgt. Feliz Quesada, Upland Police Department, on the subject of narcotics and juvenile delinquency.

Also, concerning social problems, two members of Alchelics Anonymous met with the classes and discussed the disease of alcoholism. Larry Brewer is senior problems instructor at UHS.

CC Receives Okay On Federal Funds

Director Rex Wignall has announced that Chaffey College has received word from the State Department of Education that the applications for Federal funds for several projects have been approved.

These projects and the amounts of federal assistance are:

Life Science Dissectable Figure, $300; Engineering Drafting Laboratory, $3,349.87; Modern Foreign Language Laboratory, $5,815.08; Physics Laboratory, $2,735.

Mr. Wignall also revealed approval of a project for the development of Business Data Processing Technician training program. This program calls for support from the State up to a total amount of $4,267.20 to help with planning and initiating courses.

Assistance in instructional costs for Drafting Technician program: $1,080 of the total instructional costs has been approved. These are courses taught by John Pierce which fit into the Drafting Technician program.

Sam Says—

The producers of the Perry Mason show evidently feel that their films have been damaged by overexposure.

The Prosecutor gamboled and lost.

Now, if we had been the Producer, we would have created a story called, "The Case of the D.A. Caper." The D.A. would have been rubbed out, possibly by Della Street.

Our Soft 'N' Sweet Diaper Service is growing more popular. This service is available to mothers of Upland and North Ontario. Pickup and delivery is twice weekly, Tuesdays and Fridays. The clean diapers are delivered in sealed wax lined bags. The bags are used to return the soiled diapers. As with all of our work, each customer's wash is laundered, dried, and handled throughout on an individual basis. A very sanitary system. $2.25 per week. Ten weeks makes a wonderful shower gift, that will be long remembered and cherished. We use an excellent formula for diaper and layette laundering.

MARDI GRAS CARNIVAL TOPS CAMPBELL CRUISE

The Panamanian Mardi Gras Carnival was a high spot of the recent freighter cruise made by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Campbell, 541 W. Flora, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Cambell, (owners of Upand's Town and Country Dresses) left Los Angeles harbor Feb. 12 on the Grace Line freighter "Santa Cruz," which carried general cargo and seven passengers to Mexico and Central American ports.

The cruise lasted two weeks with stops in eight foreign ports, including Acapulco and Champerico, Mexico; San Jose and Acajutla, Guatemala, La Libertad, El Salvador; Amapola, Honduras, La Union, Costa Rica and Puntarenas, Costa Rica.

Except for Acapulco, all the ports are rather primitive, the Campbells said, with cargo taken ashore in lighters. In many places passengers going ashore were hoisted from small boat to dock in a chair using the same crane as cargo.

The Cambells traveled to San Jose, Costa Rica by narrow gauge railway, making 31 stops in 60 miles. From San Jose to Panama the Cambells traveled by air.

They were surprised, they said, to find the Mardi Gras carnival in Panama in full swing, which is much like the New Orleans Mardi Gras. They also spent several days in the Guatemalan mountains, which is beautiful country with interesting Indian people, they reported.

Mexico City, Taxco and Cuernavaca were visited on their way home.

Upland Correspondent Relates Olympic Story

(This is the third in a series of articles written exclusively for the Upland News by Reed Hansen who traveled as a UPI Teen Correspondent to the VIII Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley, California February 18 through 28th.)

by

REED HANSEN

(SSA President—Upland)

Competition in the VIII Olympic Winter Games started off like a bang and when the snow flurries cleared, one naturally found the Russian winter athletes on top.

The stage was set. The actors were about to take their places in the huge theater. The officials were tensely awaiting curtain time. Thirty nations were about to strain toward 48 coveted gold medals.

After I arrived at the Valley about 9:30 a.m., I found that one gold medal already had been won — Sixten Jernberg of Sweden had placed first in the 30-km Cross-Country Skiing at McKinney Creek — the Winter Olympics were in full swing!

My second assignment wasn't nearly as easy as my first. I was to get a story on the Hadleys, a brother and sister figure skating duo from the United States, and this turned out to be very difficult.

For one thing, I didn't have the required number on my press pass (Hearst Headline Credential). I told Mr. Peterson (Leo Peterson is national director of UPI) this and he gave me an Arena pass which just allows one to enter it.

No Special Pass

To get an interview with the athletes, one must go through the front entrance and into the lower arena. You need a special pass and I didn't have it. But finally Burt Sims, who was the Examiner's writer at the Games, did a little talking and finally I made it to the locker room.

The skaters were just finishing up and I looked for the youthful pair. Finally, they came from their dressing rooms with touches of regret etched on their faces. They had not done as well as they planned.

It was beautiful to watch those skaters glide across the ice. All those hours of practice and hard work were put into this one performance in the Olympic Games. As the pairs prepared for their exhibition, you could see the grim determination on their faces as they swept across that clear Squaw Valley ice.

As it ended up, the Canadian pair, Bob Paul and Barbara Wagner put on an amazing display of skating. They were marvelous. When I talked to them later, they both admitted that they would rather skate than eat. It was their life.

Ray and Ila Hadley didn't have much to say for they were disappointed. You couldn't blame them. For two who are only 16 and 17 respectively, this was an upsetting experience. But they said that they would look forward to the world skating championships and the 1964 Olympics at Innsbruck, Austria.

Dynamic Competition

I wrote the story on them with the memory of that dynamic competition — traditional of all the events in the Olympics. The competitors put all they have into their work for this was their chance to represent their country in the word jackpot of amateur athletics.

That morning, the men's downhill competition was cancelled and that disappointed the athletes more than anyone. They had prepared their training schedule and were at their peak. But due to weather conditions, the competition could not be carried out.

Looking forward to the afternoon's hockey, I decided to scan the grounds and take in the beautiful sights around Squaw Valley.

To begin with, the snow at Squaw was different than any I have ever seen. It was like powdered sugar — packed hard. When the skiers came down the mountain, their skis could be seen spraying snow in all directions and this certainly was a most beautiful sight.

In the Olympic Press Building, there is a room for the general press just loaded with typewriters and adjacent to it is the Western Union room where the reporters filed all their releases to their newspapers. There were well over 100 newsmen in this room but not usually at the same time.

Down the hall was a press canteen. Here, most of the reporters and photographers did their eating. Like I said before, you got either roast beef or ham — hot or cold. But it was good along with pie and hot chocolate. Farther on down the hall were numerous radio booths and at the end, United and Associated Press — both news and photo.

Working Press

This is where I worked. There is a head desk where Peterson and Hank Reiger work as copy readers. At another desk is Hal Wood, West Coast director of UPI. These men are the nucleus of the UPI wire release. There are three operators sending the stories over the wires and two phonemen taking calls from the course.

In the northwest portion of the Valley, the Olympic Village is silouetted in a backdrop of white and green. The rooms are built in two story fashion — but the press was barred from the Village because of too much interference with the athletes. The Village is equipped with a Post Office and market with recreation lounges for the athletes to gather in.

A small road runs through the Village to the Army's camp in the extreme northern end of the Valley. Next to the Village and directly in the center of the Valley is a stream which flows very slowly. Fed by the snow laden hillsides, it gouges out a width of about 15 feet.

I hiked up there one day and plowed through some drifts that came up to my chest. One could stand in that snow for about 10 minutes before it started to melt or soak in. It was cold and clear most of the time with afternoons especially chilly. Riding the lifts was one of the free passes that our credentials provided and I took advantage of it.

KT-22's lift was very beautiful and I didn't miss a sight. Slowly climbing up the ridge on the lift. I saw the entire Valley outlined below and up above, the wind was blowing the loose snow and it looked like a sand storm in the Sahara. Squaw Peak consists of wide snow fields, ideal for skiing because there are no trees for miles to hamper your skiing. I could see blue Lake Tahoe from the Squaw Peak lift.

Hockey Games

In the afternoon, I usually took in the hockey games at spacious Blythe Arena. The first afternoon I watched the plucky little Japanese hockey players work out and then saw the Czech hockey men lead the U.S. 4-3 after two periods before heading back to the Lodge. Next week I will devote my entire article to that of ice hockey.

During much of my spare time and on two occasions when I wrote stories on it, I eagerly watched the art of speed skating which proved to be very exciting at times. The speed skating oval at Squaw Valley was 400 meters in length. Men's competition called for races of 500 meters, 5000 meters, 1500 meters, and 10,000 meters. And believe me, this is much more grueling than it seems. It's more than just skating around in circles.

Women skated 500 meters, 1500 meters, 1000 meters, and 3,000 meters. Most of the skaters, when skating, keep their hand (right, that is) behind them. This is for two distinctive reasons. One for balance and the other for stamina. Only in the last couple of hundred yards do the athletes usually let go with both arms and "sprint" the remaining distance.

With their long skates cutting the clear ice divided by snow dividers, the ice cutters created an interesting picture with the ski-jump hill, the Tower of Nations, and the speed skating scoreboard in the backdrop.

Met Mickey's Dad

Scattered in front, the "giant snow statues" created by Walt Disney himself whom I personally met, stand silouetted against the sharp blue mountain sky. The statues were made of a plaster of paris substance and were valued at about $3,000 dollars apiece — that is accounting for all the cost of making it and getting it there. There were some 30 of these designed as anything from a hockey goalie to a biathlon competitor.

Incidentally, for those who are not familiar with the biathlon event, (it was just introduced this Olympics), it was a competition which involves shooting at four series of five targets along a rugged course in which the competitor has to ski his way through the cross country course at McKinney Creek.

Through all these events we can see it is an athletic menagere of many sides, views, and talents. But it is these qualities which make up the Winter Games and the Squaw Valley edition of these winter competitions that come every leap year was no exception to the fine tradition of the Olympic Games.....

(Next week: A full scale look at hockey, my personal favorite of the Games and the Games' only "team" sport. Look for some interesting sidelights on the ice and stick sport...)

Organ Virtuoso Appears At Upland College Friday

Dr. Mario Salvador, A.G.O., one of the great organ virtuosos of the United States, will present a concert at Upland College Friday, April 1, 8 p.m. The program, sponsored by the college will be offered on the Hammond Organ.

Dr. Savador, born in the Dominican Republic, gave his first public concert at the age of ten years at Kimball Hall, Chicago. He studied organ and theory in Rome under four of the outstanding artists and also studied piano under Boccacini, a pupil of Liszt. Returning to the United States he completed his academic education at Loyola University, Chicago, while continuing his musical study at the American Conservatory of Music. While in Italy he gave a series of concerts at Santa Croce Basilica.

Mr. Salvador has achieved international acclaim as a concert organist, author and composer. His technique and pedal work combined with the color tone are beyond compare.

This is the only appearance of Dr. Salvador on the west coast at this time. He is making the trip from St. Louis especially for this concert. Tickets for the concert may be secured from Upland College students or by contacting the Upland College offices.

Each day's rainfall on United States averages a total of 4,300,000,000,000 gallons of wa- which evaporates into the atmosphere directly, or through plants, and the balance flows off through lakes and rivers.

New Books For Boys, Girls

A book like FOREIGN SERVICE GIRL by Robin McKown would never have been written until recent years. The idea that a girl just out of college could accept a post in any far corner of the world is a new idea in careers.

Francine hoped for a job in a glamorous city when she joined the foreign service but she landed in a hardship post in North Africa. To learn to make the best of bad social conditions and to be alert for plots and intrigue developed abilities that Francine did not know that she possessed.

Boys who wait eagerly for stories about sports cars will enjoy MONTE CARLO RALLY by Michael Gibson. By great good fortune, Ian Munro was given the opportunity to be one of the crew in the great road race across France and back. Ten - foot drifts of snow and other hazards of winter driving made the long journey a test of skill and hardihood. Readers will learn the terms used by racing fans in England.

BASEBALL STORIES by Parke Cumming is a thick book full of true tales about the great players of past years.

Girls will like any story by Betty Cavanna and those who like the sea will find double enjoment on THE SCARLET SAIL. On her fifteenth birthday, Andrea's best present was a boat of her own. Mike offered to teach her to sail but Andrea thought he was too bossy, and she proved to be a difficult pupil.

Herbert Best is an author who specializes in historical fiction. His new book, SEA WARRIORS, tells an absorbing story of Bjorn, the bear, and his minstrel cousin, Eiliv. These Vikings made their way from Norway to Iceland, Greenland and the fair land of Vineland on the American continent. A raven with a split tongue plays an important part in the story.

For fifth and sixth grade readers, MARYLAND ADVENTURE by J. C. Long will introduce them to a war of which they probably never heard. The first civil war in America took place some years before the Revolution. The facts in the book are true in every detail.

MISS CHARITY COMES TO STAY by Alberta Wilson Constant will remind many peope of THE LITTLE HOUSE ON THE PRAIRIE by Laura Ingalls Wilder. The author did not live the adventures as Mrs. Wilder did, but she heard them from her grandfather and she knows the country well. Oklahoma, at the time of the land rush is the locale for a good book.

Another new friend for girl readers is Penny in A HOME FOR PENNY by Mildred Hark and Noel McQueen. Penny lived in an orphan's home but it was not the kind found in many books. Penny was self-reliant and well adjusted and life at the Home had a happy quality that is a relief from the ordinary story of institutional life.

A book for reading aloud to the whole family is GARGANTUA by James A. Ward. The great gorilla which earned the title of being the most dangerous animal in the world learned its lesson of hate the hard way. Only the first chapter of this book is built by the author on facts supplied by men who make a business of capturing wild animals. The rest of the story is completely true.

PLANTS OF WOODLAND AND WAYSIDE written and illustrated by Suzan Swain is beautiful. While most of the plants illustrated are not found locally, it is a pleasant introduction to botany.

Valenti Angelo is the author of BELLS OF BLEECKER STREET and many other excellent books. THE HONEY BOAT is a story of the barge, The Queen Bee, which carried dozens of hives of bees along an Italian river to follow the blossom time. In addition to a delightful story, much bee-culture is woven into the book.

Miss Frankish Honored By Shower In Cucamonga

More than a score of friends of Miss Gail Frankish gave her a linen and lingerie shower in the home of the Ben Vizios, 7825 Valle Vista, Cucamonga, recently.

Miss Frankish is to become the bride of Robert Price Drohan in mid-spring rites.

Hostesses for the shower were Misses Jayne and Lynda Vizio.

Assisting in serving the guests were Mrs. Hugh Frankish and Miss Ruth Mary Frankish.

On the guest list were the names of the Mmes. Nelson Gray, Vizio, Alfred Wegener, Edward Teal, Roy Strickling, Clifford Thomas, Kendle Hill, Bailey Jacobs, George Hart, Basil Harris, Edward Wolfe, Keith Koehler, Walter Moffitt, Ralph Ryan, Conrad Stroh, John Alderman, Robert Bradshaw, Leslie Hoag, Philip Riefel and Frank Melone and the Misses Marilyn Strickling, Linda Stroh, Gail Hoag, Marcia Hoag and Barbara Kunkle.

Reading Teaching

The Ontario - Upland Chapter of the International Reading Association presented demonstration teaching in the reading techniques of an individualized reading program and a group reading program at its meeting Tuesday, March 29, at the Upland College Dining Hall.

Mrs. Greta Sweetland demonstrated the group teaching with her first - graders from Baldy View School, Upland. Mrs. Ida Sneddon, with her fifth-graders from Cucamonga School, demonstrated the individualized program.

Following the demonstration, questions were answered by a panel of six:

Dr. Booth, Upland College; Mrs. Marjorie Gillespie, Curruculum Consultant, Ontario; Mrs. Opal Hawes, Supervisor of Elementary Education, Upland; Mrs. Alice Krehbiel, Reading Consultant for San Bernardino Co. Schools and Mrs. Sweetland and Mrs. Sneddon.

Crossing Guard In First Close Call

Upland crossing guard George Gehrt had his first close call in eight years on the job last week.

He was knocked down by an auto while standing in the school crosswalk at Arrow Hwy. and Fifth Ave. Monday morning, March 21.

"It wasn't bad enough to make me go to a doctor," Mr. Gehrt reported, "but I was mighty stiff and sore for a few days."

Mr. Gehrt said in all the time he has served as a crossing guard -- for two years at Euclid Ave. and Arrow Hwy., for a year at Sultana, and at San Antonio Ave. and 11th St. for two years before taking up duty at Arrow and Fifth—he has never had the slightest trouble with the children.

"But the traffic along Arrow Hwy. is getting worse every year," he declared.

He said there were no children endangered when he was accidentally struck by the slow moving auto which was driven by an elderly woman. "I was standing out in the middle of the street, waiting for a pick-up to pass so I could escort several youngsters from the south side to the north side of the street," Mr. Gehrt explained. "Then this car behind the pick up just rolled right into me." He thought the woman had trouble putting on her brake.

Mr. Gehrt took up crossing guard duties after retiring from his job as a fireman in a powerhouse back in Mallard Iowa, and coming to Upland.

"Mallard, Iowa," he explained, "is named after the Mallard duck. There used to be so much water in the area, you could shoot down ducks by the wagonload."

4 Injured

Four persons were injured in a collision between an Upland police car, following a fire engine, and a passenger car at the intersection of Euclid Ave. and Arrow Hwy. Friday, March 25.

Injured were occupants of the police car — Patrolman Henry E. Martin, 25, 836 N. Ninth Ave., and Reserve Officer Ray W. Stump, 32, 748 E. Raymond St. — and passenger car occupants Ruth Alene Musser, 21, Pomona, and Cynthia Barone, 20, 739 N. Euclid Ave.

All were taken to San Antonio Community Hospital for emergency treatment.

Ontario Bank In Top 7 Per Cent

It was announced in the February, 1960, issue, of "American Banker" that the First National Bank of Ontario now stands in the 1011th position and is in the first seven per cent in size among all the 15,000 banks in the United States. It has gained 80 places in size during 1959. This is the highest year-end rank in this Bank's history.

Ralph V. Arnold, president of the First National Bank of Ontario, announced that the bank will be in semi-automation by the end of this year. This will provide the science of electronics to help eliminate the time consuming hand processing of checks and other bank record-keeping.

These electronic machines will provide greater efficiency for the bank and more satisfactory service for the customers.

House Blaze Does Damage

Damage estimated at $2500 occurred Friday, March 25, as result of a fire in the two-story home of Arthur Day Butler at 94 W. Eighth St.

Fire Chief Howard Paulin said chief damage was to the upstairs area.

The blaze was believed to have started while a 14-year-old boy was using matches to melt plastic in building a car model.

Mt. Baldy Visits To Snow Recorded

An estimated 122,986 visitors have been to Mt. Baldy from Dec. 20 through February, according to the Mt. Baldy Chamber of Commerce.

Visitors who have ridden the ski lifts total 60,309. Of those, 15,945 were skiers, 44,365 were sightseers. But of the latter, 7728 became skiers by renting equipment and taking lessons.

There have been 60 skiing days this winter.

Total snowfall for the season (Oct. 1 through February) has been 96½ inches. Total precipitation has been 12.22 inches.

Continental Air Assumed By UHS French Students

Advanced French students at Upland High School recently decided to test their knowledge of the language by arranging an all-French dinner at Centro Basco, Chino.

To begin the festive mood, the young people dressed in their finest, and the girls spent the afternoon creating "Parisian coiffures." It was decided that no language but French would be spoken during the entire evening.

Dr. Grenafore Schneider, instructor, who has lived in France for several years, advised the students on the menu which consisted of soupe aux legumes, hors d'oeuvres varies, Pates italiennes, le poulet rati, les pommes frites, les haricots verts, la salade verte, le fromage en trouche.

Steve Snyder recited a French grace, and the group sang French songs and conversed in French.

Andre, maitre d'hotel, added to the French atmosphere by engaging various students in conversation, and by his continental air of serving the table, according to Dr. Schneider.

Attending were:

Norma Schmidgall, Ann McGivney, Paula Pruitt, Susan Kurek, Ragna Olausen, Charlene Bonynge, Don Fulton, Steve Snyder, Pat Hicks, and Janice Schneider. Mrs. Fredrik Olausen was a guest. Doctor Schneider also attended.

Jim Gilliland Represents Zone In Optimist Contest

John Gilliland, Upland High School freshman, scored new honors recently at Pomona Elks Lodge, when he was selected to represent the zone at the Optimist Club District Contest to be held in Corona, April 9.

Speaking against several Pomona Valley student speakers, Gilliland won the contest with his speech titled, "The Voice of Optimism."

The winner of the April run-off will represent the Optimists at their convention to be held in Coronado in May, and a scholarship grant in the eventual reward.

Richard Kermer and Joseph Stone, Upland High School freshman debators, qualified for the Citrus Belt Speech League Finals in debate Saturday at Pacific High School, with 12 schools in competition. Kermer and Stone won parchment certificates for winning three out of four rounds. Both boys will enter the debate finals at the University of Redlands, April 23.

David Wadleigh and John Gilliland won two out of four rounds of debate competition, and Dick Whittaker and Clive took one of four. Both of four. Both of these teams are now preparing to enter the State and National Qualifying National Forensic League Debate Finals, to be held at the University of Southern California April 1 and 2.

Upland Dairyman Attends Meeting

Alvin Musser, dairyman in the Upland area and a director of the California Beef Council, has returned from an all-day meeting of the Council's Board held in San Francisco.

Major purpose of the meeting was to lay plans for the coming year and to discuss over-all Council promotional activities.

Highlighting the day's events was a series of meetings by members of specific committees. Mr. Musser, who serves as an alternate member on the Executive Committee, reported results of last year's executive program and discussed coordination of these plans with those of the California Beef Council as a whole.

After presentation of a comprehensive report on beef consumption patterns in major population centers in California, Board members enthusiastically endorsed a program of sharply increased activity for the fiscal year ahead. Projects singled out for special attention ranged from intensified coverage of rural areas during the major cattle movement months of May and June; through a special "Beef for the Holidays" promotion to be launched later in the year.

To Vectors Go Spoils!

"What's in a name?" Upland High School's mathematics students organized into a math-for-fun club, and chose the name, "The Vectors."

The ink was hardly dry on the charter before the science students were howling with laughter.

Dale R. Stevens, math sponsor, immediately got into a huddle with Roy T. Vick, science mentor, and discovered that a vector—to a scientist— is "an organism, usually an insect, which carries and transmits disease—causing microorganisms."

The Vectors proudly clung to their name, however because, to a mathemaetician, a vector is "a complex entity representative of a directed magnitude, as of a force or a velocity."
